

Solution Brief

Communication for every engagement

The impact of a great customer experience is significant. According to a recent study, customers are now 4.2x more likely to make a purchase and 6.3x more likely to recommend a company after experiencing positive customer service.¹ According to PWC, efficiency and convenience are the most impactful drivers of a great customer experience.² As digital transformation continues to gain momentum, the success of your customer communication will play a crucial role in determining your customers' overall satisfaction.

Bridging the Gap: Better communication. Better performance. Better ROI.

Customer communication throughout the journey is ever-changing and dynamic. Recent research reveals that 85% of B2B buyers and 78% of B2C customers now utilize multiple communication channels during their path to purchase.³ Emphasizing the significance of multichannel communication, Forrester reports that when consumers have access to their preferred communication channels, over two-thirds are likely to recommend a company, make additional purchases, or engage in a first-time purchase.⁴ To thrive in the fiercely competitive markets of today, it is imperative to ensure that your customer communication is fast, easy, and secure to meet their evolving preferences and demands.
